Good Day Brother Knights

Happy Thanksgiving everyone!! I would like to extend my profound thanks to those Brother Knights who donated to our Thanksgiving baskets. According to our chairperson, Dave Nelson, we had plenty nonperishable items for the baskets.

I would also like to extend my appreciation to the Brother Knights who researched the best prices for the turkeys. A shout out also goes to Gordie Barns for taking care of the perishable products.

We held our Shrimp Boil this past month unfortunately the attendance was about 50 below normal, but the crowd that came seemed to really enjoy themselves. We were really happy that Father Stephen was able to make it and stay the entire evening, leading us in prayer and mingling all night with the attendees. Big thanks to our Chairs Craig Baader and Phil Nassef, our set up crew, our kitchen crew, our servers, our bartenders, our ticket collector (Danny & Cindy), and our outside cooking crew headed up by Richie Tomasik – great job!!

It was my pleasure to recognize Past Grand Knight Randall Ramian for his service and work with the Council during his two year term as our Grand Knight. Congratulations Randall!!

Now we have to prepare for Christmas as the holidays are here and we celebrate the birth of our Lord, Jesus Christ.

I hope you enjoy them as much as I do. God Bless you and your families!!

Thank you

Fraternally yours,
Paul Masotta Grand Knight

LAMB Project 2024

Brothers:

First: Happy Thanksgiving, Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

This past year has been a good one for LAMB collections. From Food Lion to Walmart (twice), Piggly Wiggly to Sept. and Oct. busy times, and Yard sales to mail in collections. At Mumfest in October we collected $835, less expenses. The usher collection at masses on Oct 26-27 collected $1,015. We are a little above last year at this time: Last year was about $9,000, this year about $9,800.

Last year we had a donation from Big Rock Foundation of $2,000. This year I asked for a donation of $3,000. By the time you read this, I will have received notification that we will be receiving the $3,000 from Big Rock Foundation. That should put us just a tick under $13,000 for the year. Last year's final count was $11,200. This year will be about 16% over last year.

All this was possible because of you, the 32+ members who were able to donate their time, 2 hours at a time all year, for our cause, some more than once. And we were lucky that only twice we had rain for our collections.

Our year for LAMB runs from Jan 1 to Dec 31, so as of January 1 2025, we get to start over again, with next years challenges unknown.

Sincerely

Tom Henry
LAMB Administrator

Council 3303 Recognizes St. Paul Youth Ministry

At the November 5th business meeting, Council 3303 invited Mary Lindsey Greico to speak and update the membership on the wonderful happenings of the Youth Ministry. Pictured here is Grand Knight Paul Masotta, Youth Director Mike Lynch presenting a check to Mary Lindsey. Under our Faith program, Council 3303 budgets support for our Catholic Youth Program. The St. Paul Youth Ministry under St. Paul Catholic Church is headed by Mary Lindsey Greico. Mary Lindsey has done a fabulous job building our youth ministry since she was hired a few years ago. Through her creative talents and planning, Mary Lindsey has developed an incredible faith-based program that incorporates loads of fun projects and events that are enriching the lives of over 60 children from the parish in elementary grades up through high school. Her program includes 35 children in the Blaze Middle School program and the several students in the High School “SPY” and Confirmation program. Recent events include a Halloween downtown New Bern scavenger Hunt, Pumpkin painting contest, Confirmation Youth retreats, and weekly faith discussions and prayer sessions. Upcoming events include the Youth Leadership organizing a night of Eucharistic Adoration and Catholic Summer Camp planning for next summer. The Knights are proud to support our young Catholic parishioners and possible future Knights of Columbus. It is so critical to keep our young Catholics engaged in our Church because so many have recently fallen away as they leave for college and careers. Please keep these children in your prayers as we ask the Lord to use our leaders to connect to the teens and help them seek the faith. Some of the fun activities are highlighted in the pictures on these pages.

Knight of the Month – November

November 2024 Knight of the Month is Gordan ‘Gordy’ Barnes

Gordy is from Emporium in northwestern Pa. and his wife Sheila is from Seneca Falls NY in the heart of the Finger Lakes. They met when Sheila was a junior in High school and he was a 20 year old factory worker. They have been married 52 years. He earned his BS in Finance from Rochester Institute of Technology in 1974 and received his CMA years later. They have lived in Seneca Falls NY, Tulsa OK, Danville and Erie Pa and Cary NC before moving to New Bern in 2003. They owned William’s Farm and Garden Center before they retired in 2016. They have 2 children and 7 grandchildren

Gordy was recruited to join the KOC 6 years ago by Bob Donley. He started working with Bob in tools and the yard sale, eventually taking over that department. He also heads up the St Paul School Christmas party, the Widow’s Luncheon and Stuff the Truck at St Paul’s Catholic Church. Gordy is also a member of the kitchen teams for Lenten fish fries, St Patrick’s dinner and shrimp boils. He actively supports LAMB, Thanksgiving baskets and Poinsett’s at Christmas for widows. Also, he is on the Board of the Columbus Club. Both Gordy and Sheila were Eucharistic Ministers working for Sister Monique servicing Carolina East Hospital before is stopped during Covid.

Family of the Month – November

November 2024 Family of the Month: Sir Knight Terry Anderson and wife Beth Terry was born in Chattanooga, TN and lived as a child in Oklahoma before his family returned to the Chattanooga area where he lived until joining the US Navy in 1971 after high school. Beth was born in Anaheim, CA and grew up in Orange County enjoying the beaches and good friends.

After the Navy, Terry returned to eastern TN from San Diego and eventually used the GI Bill to get his degree in Computer Science and started his IT career. Eventually, that career led him back to San Diego where he also pursued his avocation as a Master Scuba Diver Trainer. Beth had decided to get her Open Water Scuba Diver certification after moving to San Diego around the same time Terry found himself back there. As destiny would have it and based on a recommendation, she signed up for one of Terry's classes. Eventually, they would begin to date and find themselves in love, marrying in 2006 and moving two years later to Colorado where one of Terry's sons lived.

Terry and Beth both had been previously married and between them have six children. They have three grandchildren – one in Jacksonville, FL and two in Centennial, CO. It was in CO that they pursued a deep desire to convert to Catholicism. Once confirmed, they became heavily involved with various ministries at Our Lady of Loreto Parish in Foxfield, CO where Terry joined the Knights, eventually serving as Council Chancellor, Membership Director, then Grand Knight in 2019 and 2020. While Grand Knight he also served as the Assembly's Faithful Pilot and member of the Color Corps.

In 2020 they began to think seriously about retirement and explored different options, finally targeting the New Bern area for its beauty, slower pace of life, proximity to TN and FL and access to the Outer Banks where they love to spend time. Since Terry had already been working from home for several years as an IT Project Management consultant, there was no need to live near a metropolitan area. And since Beth worked in the healthcare field as a Medical Assistant, finding employment in the New Bern area at some point wouldn't be difficult. They sold their CO home in October 2020 and purchased their new home in New Bern a couple of miles from Carolina Colours where they currently live.

Once the pandemic loosened its grip, Terry officially transferred from his old Council and Assembly and became active in Council 3303 and Assembly 1820. Terry helps with the Yard Sale and with Lamb collections whenever possible. He is also the Keep Christ in Christmas program director, Council Recorder and Assembly Faithful Pilot.

Terry and Beth are Eucharistic Ministers for the church as well as for the sick and homebound. Beth enjoys helping others and is easily recognized by her warm and cheerful smile. She is also a Catholic Daughter. Terry is also a Lector and is the St. Paul Liturgical Ministries Coordinator, responsible for scheduling all Eucharistic Minister and Lector Mass participation in addition to providing training in both ministries.

In February this year, they decided Beth could retire from her healthcare career and in June, Terry retired from his long Information Technology career that spanned several industries including: ecommerce & banking; oil & gas exploration and production; healthcare; and supply chain management. After working as a programmer in the late 1970s and early 80s, he had served in management and executive positions as well as founding a consultancy supporting oil & gas production management systems.

Today, Beth devotes much of her time to making beautiful rosaries. Terry enjoys spending time at the shooting range. He jokingly refers to these hobbies as "guns and rosaries". They own a boat that spends more time in repairs than on the water and they hope to get into the swing of golfing. They enjoy road trips and walks on the beach, with and without their beloved Golden Retriever, "Marshall".

Terry closes this little write-up with thanks and says: "Beth and I are humbled being named Council 3303 Family of the Month for November 2024".

Faithful Navigator's Report

Greetings Brother Knights,

Well things are moving along with donations and pickups for the Yard Sale. We have been busy with multiple pickups both Mondays and Tuesdays. The storage areas for furniture and appliances are filling up and the indoor sales areas are being restocked with items. We only have 6-7 weeks until the next Yards Sale. In the past we have had great support in donations during this time frame, hopefully it will continue. Having said that, we are still in need of volunteers to help sort items and distribute to the different sections in the Yard Sale building. Help on the truck would be appreciated also. We meet every Monday and Tuesday from 0900 - 1200. Anyone interested in helping out please contact Pat Rocco or Craig Baader.

The Council setup a collection for Thanksgiving Baskets for 18 needy families. Gordy Barnes, Dave Nelson were the leads. They and others in the Council along with Assembly members worked their magic and a bumper crop of non-perishables and turkeys were donated and distributed.

The Color Guard is looking for new members. If you are interested, you will need the new Uniform. The Assembly will help offset the cost of the new uniform, Sword, Baldric and gloves. Contact Denny Colbert if you are interested.

We are still in need of someone to fill the Membership and Retention position. Anyone interested please contact me/ Ron Biggs at 540-846-2296 or e-mail BSgtMaj9@yahoo.com. Thank you for allowing me to serve as your Faithful Navigator.

Safe travels during the Holiday season.

Sir Knight of the Month – November

For November, Assembly 1820 honors Sir Knight Roger Brown as our Sir Knight of the Month.

Roger and his wife, Mary, relocated to New Bern in June 2010 where they currently reside in Carolina Colours. Originally from Valley Stream, NY, Roger served in the U.S. Navy as a Hospital Corpsman on the flagship of the 6th fleet. After serving his country, Roger and Mary met at Creighton University in Omaha and were married in November 1970. They have four children, 2 girls and 2 boys who have blessed them with 7 grandchildren.

Roger's career was centered on radiology, marketing, and sales for General Electric Medical Systems, specializing in the field of CT living in Hartland, WI before retiring to New Bern. Roger's passion is sailing, golf, and enjoying life with friends and family including time spent with the Knights of Columbus. One of Roger's favorite hobbies is photography, and he is a member of the Coastal North Carolina Photography Club. He also enjoys building models and is a member of the New Bern Model Boat Guild. Roger is a history buff and volunteers at the New Bern Firemen's Museum. Roger and Mary are active members of the New Bern Historical Society and volunteer at their various events throughout the year.

Roger recently was exemplified into the 4th Degree and is an active member of the Assembly. Sir Knight Roger works the Yard Sale, volunteers with the LAMB collections, and now heads the new marketing and publicity for both the Council and Assembly. He has done a fabulous job and has recently been heard on a few half hour radio programs. He also managed to get us a plug for LAMB on a local TV. Roger is expanding the Knights communications to the wider New Bern area in hopes of growing our impact on the Knights activities and membership. Roger also serves as an usher at the Saturday 5:00 pm Mass

Congratulations to Sir Knight Roger Brown for all your wonderful efforts in strengthening Assembly 1820.

Faithful Captain
Mike Lynch

The Gospel According to Luke

December 1 is the First Sunday in Advent and it is also the first day of the new Liturgical Year – Cycle C. During this Cycle we will hear predominantly from the Gospel according to Luke.

Luke's gospel is the longest book in the New Testament and one of the most sophisticated. While most Christians are familiar with the birth of Christ in chapter 2, not many are familiar with some of the nuances of the third gospel that enrich our understanding of the person of Christ. Below we will attempt to carve out three areas that are often overlooked: the purpose of the book, the exaltation of the humble and the humbling of the proud, and Jesus' relationship to the Old Testament.

1. The purpose of Luke.

New Testament authors don't often inform the readers why they are writing a letter or gospel. But two of the four Gospels do such a thing. Luke explains to Theophilus in 1:4 that he's writing to him so "that you may have certainty concerning the things you have been taught." While we don't know much about Theophilus, scholars believe that he was likely a gentile who converted to Judaism and then subsequently to Christianity. Theophilus may have even funded Luke's gospel and the book of Acts, since publishing in the first century was a costly endeavor. In any case, the point is that Luke writes Theophilus to confirm what Theophilus already knows. It appears, then, that Theophilus is familiar with the broad strokes of Jesus' life, death, and resurrection, and Luke pens his gospel to fill in the gaps of Theophilus' knowledge with the purpose of preserving his faith. This is an incredibly important principle, a principle that the church in the twenty-first century must value. One's knowledge of Christ's ministry is directly tied to one's personal faith. When doubt creeps into our hearts, as it inevitably does, we must turn to the Gospels and refresh our minds with the truth of Christ's birth, life, death, and resurrection.

2. The exaltation of the humble and the humbling of the proud.

Hymns in the Bible often encapsulate key themes, themes that are woven throughout the book (e.g., Dan. 2:20–23; Dan. 4:1–3, 34–35; Dan. 6:25–27). Luke, too, contains four hymns that summarize a great deal of the book's theology: Luke 1:46–55 (the Magnificat), Luke 1:68–79 (the Benedictus), Luke 2:14 (Gloria in Excelsis), and Luke 2:29–32 (the Nunc Dimittis). The following lines are from the first hymn, the Magnificat, the most well-known of the four:

"He has shown strength with his arm;
he has scattered the proud in the thoughts of their hearts;
he has brought down the mighty from their thrones
and exalted those of humble estate;
he has filled the hungry with good things,
and the rich he has sent away empty." (Luke 1:51–53, emphasis added)

This hymn strikingly resembles Hannah's famous prayer in 1 Samuel 2:1–10, wherein Hannah thanks the Lord for providing her with Samuel—one of the most notable prophets in Israel's history—who played a critical role in establishing the Davidic dynasty. King Jesus, like King David, will be the means by which God exalts the lowly and demotes the mighty. This explains why Luke often underscores a reversal of fortunes. For example, Christ's faithful obedience in the wilderness (Luke 4) empowers Him to expel the devil and his minions from the created order. In Luke 10:18, Jesus, alluding to Isaiah 14:12, exclaims, "I saw Satan fall like lightning from heaven." The point is that a tectonic shift is taking place—Satan has lost his position of power (Luke 11:20–23) and his kingdom is crumbling (Rom. 16:20). In stark contrast, Jesus embodies lowly character throughout His life; He was born in the humblest of circumstances (Luke 2:7), lived in the unremarkable town of Nazareth (Luke 4:16), and died an undeserving death for His people (Luke 22:1–23:56). But, on account of Jesus' faithfulness, God vindicated the Son and exalted Jesus to the Father's throne (Luke 24:50–53). <Continued Next Page>

Believers must take this pattern to heart because God promises that we too will undergo difficult circumstances. We will not be publicly vindicated until our physical resurrection at the consummation. Only in the eternal state will God's people enjoy an exalted existence.

3. Jesus and the Old Testament.

Luke begins his gospel by describing the ministry of Christ as "events that have been fulfilled" (Luke 1:1, NLT). A careful reader would ask, "What Old Testament texts does Luke have in mind?" The short answer: all of them. There are more than thirty explicit Old Testament quotations and hundreds of Old Testament allusions in the third gospel, so we should assume that Luke is steeped in the Old Testament and has tremendous insight into how to interpret it. At every point in Jesus' ministry, Luke invokes the Old Testament to explain the significance of the event. At the end of the gospel, Jesus famously reproves the two disciples on the road to Emmaus, and then, "beginning with Moses and all the Prophets, he interpreted to them in all the Scriptures the things concerning himself" (Luke 24:27). Jesus doesn't simply fulfill a handful of the Old Testament passages. He fulfills the whole of it. Today, even in evangelical circles, many shy away from reading the totality of the Old Testament with Christ as the focus. One problem with this view is that it fails to account for Jesus' own reading of the Old Testament. If we should live like Jesus, shouldn't we also read like Jesus?

Luke's gospel, while dense at times, is a treasure trove of knowledge that builds up the body of Christ and reinforces the faith of the people of God.

Your Family Advent Wreath

Why not make this the year that you have an Advent Wreath in your own home? The Advent wreath is made of four candles and a circle of branches. Before the first candle is lighted, the household gathers for this blessing.

The blessing of an Advent Wreath takes place on the First Sunday of Advent or on the evening before the First Sunday of Advent. When the blessing of the Advent Wreath is celebrated in the home, it is appropriate that it be blessed by a parent or another member of the family

Prayers for Lighting the Advent Wreath Candles:

First Week

All-powerful God, increase our strength of will for doing good that Christ may find an eager welcome at his coming and call us to his side in the kingdom of heaven, where he lives and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit one God, forever and ever.

Amen.

Second Week

God of power and mercy open our hearts in welcome. Remove the things that hinder us from receiving Christ with joy so that we may share his wisdom and become one with him when he comes in glory, for he lives and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit, one God, forever and ever.

Amen.

Third Week

Lord God, may we, your people, who look forward to the birthday of Christ experience the joy of salvation and celebrate that feast with love and thanksgiving. We ask this through Christ our Lord.

Amen.

Fourth Week

All-powerful God, your eternal Word took flesh on our earth when the Virgin Mary placed her life at the service of your plan. Lift our minds in watchful hope to hear the voice which announces his glory and open our minds to receive the Spirit who prepares us for his coming. We ask this through Christ our Lord.

Amen.
