Knights to Christ – A Reflection

FRATERNITY is Brother Knights praying as one:

When you pray and ask for something, believe that you have received it, and you will be given whatever you ask for. (Mark 11:24)

Jim Johnson was sent to save a failing hotel. The situation was so bad that Jim decided upon desperate measures. Each night he drove to a hill overlooking the hotel. He parked, sat in the car, and prayed for twenty minutes. He prayed for the hotel guests, behind the lighted windows. He prayed for the employees and their families. He prayed for himself.

Gradually, changes started to take place in the hotel. A new spirit radiated from its employees. New warmth greeted each new guest. Hope permeated the operation. Within a year, the hotel was back on its feet.

Norman Vincent Peale, who tells the story, ends with this thought: If the prayer of one person could revitalize a hotel, think what the prayer of an entire nation could do for the world. ~ Mark Link, S.J.

LAMB Project 2024

Saturday April 20 started out with a passing thunder storm. Thankfully the storm passed before we began our collection activities and started handing out tootsie rolls at Walmart on MLK after a four-year absence.

I wish to thank those who participated in the event. We (you) collected $1114.00. As of this date we are ahead of last year's collections.

I have applied to the Big Rock Foundation again this year, their decision comes out in mid-October. Last year was our first year with them, and with their donation of $2000 we were able to fulfill all of our requests for help.

We are in the planning stage going forward, still looking for more ideas. Mark your calendar now, Mumfest is Oct 12 -13 with set up for Friday Oct 11. I am trying to get the same location as the last 2 years. By the way, our application has been accepted.

Family of the Month – March

April 2024 Family of the Month: Sir Knight Roger Brown and wife Mary

Roger grew up in Valley Stream, NY. His Dad owned a typewriter business, and his mother was the secretary and bookkeeper. Mary grew up on a farm in Harlan in southwest Iowa. This is a family legacy. Roger's Dad also grew up there, and the farm is a "century farm" having now been in the family for over 125 years.

Prior to college, Roger served in the U.S. Navy as a hospital corpsman on the flagship of the 6th fleet, part of a NATO deployment.

Roger and Mary met at Creighton University in Omaha, NB. They were married November 28, 1970, at Westphalia, Iowa where Mary's family attended church. They have four children, 2 girls and 2 boys who have blessed them with 7 grandchildren.

They were "corporate gypsies" as Roger built his career. Each of the children was born in a different state. Mary was a stay-at-home Mother for 15 years as Roger traveled Monday through Friday for his job. Their oldest daughter lives in Durham and their second daughter lives in Potomac, MD with her family. Their oldest son lives in Denver with his family, and the youngest son lives in San Diego with his family

Roger's career was centered on radiology, marketing, and sales for General Electric Medical Systems, specializing in the field of CT. Mary taught English and Art at the secondary level before putting her career on hold to raise her family. She then became a Librarian and taught at the high school and college level. She continues to teach online part-time for the University of Arizona Global College.

Mary and Roger relocated to New Bern in June of 2010 when Roger retired from his business career. They moved from Hartland, WI where they had lived for 27 years raising their family. Roger's passion was sailing, and he wanted to relocate to an area where he could sail, golf, and enjoy life. In WI, the sailboat was under shrink-wrap longer than it was in the water. They found a growing community in Carolina Colours where everyone came from somewhere else to establish a new home and build a community.

Roger is involved in the Yard Sale, the LAMB, and the new marketing activity that Randall identified as a need. Currently, Roger is expanding the Knights communications to the wider New Bern area in hopes of growing our impact on the Knights activities and membership.

Mary is a member of the Catholic Daughters. She serves on the School Board and volunteers in the parish office on Tuesday afternoons. Roger is an usher at the Saturday 5:00 pm Mass, and Mary is a Eucharistic Minister. One of Roger's favorite hobbies is photography and he is a member of the Coastal North Carolina Photography Club. He also enjoys building models and is a member of the New Bern Model Boat Guild. Roger is a history buff and volunteers at the New Bern Firemen's Museum. Roger and Mary are active members of the New Bern Historical Society and volunteer at their various events throughout the year.

Mary is an avid bridge player, and she enjoys yoga, Mah Jong, gardening, and any outdoor activity. She has also served on the Board of Directors at Habitat for Humanity and the Restore Committee.

For all the good this couple has done for our Council, our Parish and the community, we offer a well-deserved congratulations to Sir Knight Roger Brown and his wife Mary, as Council 3303 March 2024 Family of the Month!

Membership Director's Desk: A Picture is Worth a Thousand Words

Have you ever asked yourself a very simple question, "Why am I a Knight"? What would your answer be? As a Catholic man would it be to serve God, my community and my parish? How about your family, your country or your devotion to your faith as a Christian and what it means to you? The reasons could be endless and profound. When you do a good deed, help someone in distress or simply give money to a worthy cause you feel good about yourself and are proud of what you did. Being a Knight and calling yourself a Knight speaks volume as to the type of person you are. Your deeds and actions do not go unnoticed. Within our community alone Knights are respected and admired for their charitable works, their desire to help those in need and last but not least their devotion to God.

With all that has been said would you not like to see other good Catholic men become a Knight and share the path that you have chosen to travel? When talking to a fellow parishioner about the Knights, ask that very same question you have asked yourself, "Why am I a Knight"? As I stated before, the reasons are almost endless and it is a great way to share your thoughts and experiences during your conversation. In my almost four years as the Membership Director for our council I have learned that it is so much easier to share with others what I have done than trying to recite a canned opening statement or speech. I also invite them to read our bulletin board which contains the latest Knightlighter. As the old saying goes, 'A picture is worth a thousand words'.

Summer Yard Sale Coming Up Very Quickly

A lot going on these days between the weekly pickups, construction of our new storage building, and our appreciation BBQ held this past week. Well, the most important thing going on is in early June, June 6th thru 8th to be exact.

Happy to report that our storage areas and chambers are getting filled to the brim and we are just about ready to start putting materials in our new storage building, just as soon as we get our certificate of occupancy from the city.

This is just about the time that our beloved Rosie Bottcher would be asking "where did all this #&^%$#@ come from?"

We are once again requesting volunteers from Cherry Point and New River, who will hopefully provide us with the young muscles that we need to put this together.

Tent setup is on Friday, May 31st starting at 9 am (beer and pizza buffet to follow), and the real work begins on Tuesday, June 4th after we get the tables from Bingo.

Pat Rocco

Yard Sale Chairman

Faithful Navigators Report

If you have driven by the building lately, you have seen that our new building is almost up and running. Those guys have really worked hard to get it up this past week. We finally have enough room to comfortably store furniture for our yard sales. It is truly a blessing to have more room to store furniture for future sales.

It looked like a party yesterday with everyone gathered in food and fellowship. The yard sale dinner was a huge success. I would like to thank everyone that worked so hard to help us appreciate the hard working men and women who help make our yard sales a success. We still need help with the yard sale on Monday and Tuesdays from 9am to noon.

The budget will be posted in the hall for everyone to look over. If anyone has any suggestions for changes please let Craig Baddar know. We will be voting on the budget at the June meeting.

The slate of officers will be brought up at next month's meeting. If you would like to put your name in the running please let Craig know. Voting for officers will also take place at the June meeting.

I would like to thank each and every one of you for all of you for helping me make our endeavors successful. You all make me look good!

God bless you and may he turn his face to you. Remember to share the love!

And Our Little Project is Now Approaching the Finish Line!!

Early on the morning of April 15th, the crew from Superior Metals began the assembly of our new storage building and worked till dusk to complete the framing and 3 sides. On Tuesday, the 16th they completed the assembly at 1 pm – they assembled it in a day and a half!!

On Monday, April 22nd our electrician will rough in the electrical work and call for his initial inspection. Our volunteers will install protective panels on the interior of the building following this and then the electrician will come back in to complete his task. We will then have the final inspection by our building inspector and the Fire Marshall. After this, we should receive our certificate of occupancy. At this juncture, the new building will be fully operational.

We will continue with some finishing touches on the grounds around the building exterior, including grading, installation of protective bollards, some aggregate for drainage, and some concrete work.

Not quite finished yet, but we are close!!

May is the Month of Mary

"She is that woman who rejoiced in the presence of God, who treasured everything in her heart, and who let herself be pierced by the sword. Mary is the saint among the saints, blessed above all others.

She teaches us the way of holiness and she walks ever at our side.

She does not let us remain fallen and at times she takes us into her arms without judging us."

—Pope Francis, Gaudete et Exsultate

As the Mother of God, the Virgin Mary has a unique position among the saints, indeed, among all creatures. She is exalted, yet still one of us. Why does Mary have such a prominent place in the communion of saints?

As Pope Emeritus Benedict XVI reflected in Deus Caritas Est (Dec. 2005), "Outstanding among the saints is Mary, Mother of the Lord and mirror of all holiness. Mary's greatness consists in the fact that she wants to magnify God, not herself. She is lowly: her only desire is to be the handmaid of the Lord (cf. Lk 1:38, 48)."

Mary, more than anyone, can show us Jesus, lead us to him and teach us to know and love him, "so that we too can become capable of true love and be fountains of living water in the midst of a thirsting world."

May is also dedicated to recognizing moms, grandmothers, stepmoms, mothers-to-be and all women who in and through their lives encompass the qualities of motherhood. It's also important to realize that Mother's Day can be difficult or painful for women who struggle with infertility, the loss of a child or children, or who are estranged from their own mothers.

Let us take time this month to pray for Our Mother Mary and to thank God for all the women who have answered the call to Motherhood

Deacon Jim Hackett

Do
Catholics
worship
Mary?

One of the biggest misconceptions of the Catholic Faith or our non-Catholic brothers and sisters is that “worship” Mary – a mortal human – not divine.

Jesus’ mother Mary has inspired more art and music than any other woman in history. Even in the modern age she fascinates the imaginations of men and women of all faiths. In fact, Mary has appeared on the cover of Time magazine more than any other person. What Catholics believe about this woman is very simple: Mary points us to Jesus.

So, the question is – “Do Catholics worship Mary?”

The simple answer is no, Catholics don’t worship Mary. We pray to Mary, but not in the same way we pray to God—and not to worship her as a god.

Jesus loved and honored his mother, and so we, too, love and honor her.

Think of it in this way: If you got sick and asked a friend to pray for you, they probably would. Our relationship with Mary operates under this same principle. We believe that Mary (and the saints) are dead to this world, but we also believe they live on with God for eternity in the next world.

And we believe that their prayers are just as powerful now that they are in heaven—even more powerful—than they were when they were here on earth. We are essentially saying to them, “We have problems down here. You know what it’s like, because you’ve been here. Please, pray for us!”

Add to that Mary’s unique perspective on the life of Jesus. Imagine the incredible insights we can gain by praying to her! Too often we squeeze the humanity out of our spiritual perspectives and exercises. Mary was a woman, a wife, a mother, a human—and the mother of Jesus. She laughed and cried, made dinner, changed diapers, and suffered anguish we will never know.

Nobody sees the life of a child the way that child’s mother does—not even the father. This is Mary’s perspective of Jesus’ life.

Mary has a unique perspective. It seems that every genuine Christian, not just Catholics, should be interested in that perspective—and not just interested, but fascinated.

So, in this month of May – this month of Mary – let us not “worship” our Mother Mary, but let us pray to her and honor her.

Deacon Jim Hackett

Memorial Day: A Catholic Understanding of Freedom and its Cost

(Michael Terheyden - Catholic Online)

Why are human beings willing to fight and die for freedom? As Americans, this Memorial Day we will remember those who died in the service of our country. But as Catholic Americans, we should also reflect on the meaning of true freedom and thank God for the Church which proclaims the way to the fullness of that freedom.

I honor those in my family and yours who paid the ultimate price for the freedom that I have enjoyed as an American. However, I believe that some today have trivialized the meaning of freedom or distorted it beyond recognition. True freedom is much deeper than being able to do what we want. Freedom directs us toward truth and choosing the truth perfects our exercise of freedom.

Again, the Catholic Catechism is so very helpful for our understanding: "The more one does what is good, the freer one becomes. There is no true freedom except in the service of what is good and just. The choice to disobey and do evil is an abuse of freedom and leads to "the slavery of sin." Freedom makes man responsible for his acts to the extent that they are voluntary. Progress in virtue, knowledge of the good, and asceticism enhance the mastery of the will over its acts." (See, CCC/Catechism of the Catholic Church #1731-1734)

The Church teaches us that to understand freedom we need to consider both our nature and the very purpose of our humanity. "Through our physical bodies, we sum up the elements of the material world and bring them to their highest perfection and freely raise their voice in praise to the creator" (cf. Gaudium et spes 14). Thus, we know that we are more than the material world, for which we have the capacity to appreciate and give thanks.

Once we understand that we are a unity of body and soul, created in the image of God and endowed with reason and free will, we are ready to taste of the Church's teaching on freedom. Paragraph 1730 found in the Catechism of the Catholic Church is short, but its breadth is enormous. It states that "God created man a rational being, conferring on him the dignity of a person who can initiate and control his own actions. God willed that man should be 'left in his own counsel,' so that he might of his own accord seek his Creator and freely attain his full and blessed perfection by cleaving to him."

The perfection of any created thing is to be able to fully act according to what it is, to its nature. And, in this respect, the thing gives glory to its creator. On the other hand, when, for any reason, a thing cannot fully act according to its nature, we correctly view it as lacking in a good. When a person cannot fully act according to their human nature, this lacking in a good can take on a moral dimension and result in the loss of freedom.

Human beings, by virtue of their reason and free will, are unique among all other created things in that they can freely choose to act in ways that are not in accord with their nature, that is, they can turn away from God and reject their own perfection, which is to become fully human and fully alive. However, turning away from God is not true freedom, it is an abuse of freedom. Instead of freeing us; it enslaves us. We need to understand this point because it is critical. Therefore, I have selected two examples.

First, in order to help us understand the significance of the abuse of freedom, Dr. Scott Hahn gives us a general example using a train. It is the nature of a train to run on tracks. As long as the train remains on the tracks, it is able to carry people or needed materials across the country. If, one day, the train viewed its tracks as restricting its freedom and decided to jump its tracks, what would happen? Therefore, acting according to our nature liberates and frees us. Acting against our nature results in a kind of slavery because we are no longer free to "Be all that we can be."

Second, Blessed John Paul II gives us a more specific example in The Gospel of Life. He shows us that when freedom is no longer based on objective truth, it destroys itself. He says, since freedom is inherently relational, if the self is understood in terms of absolute autonomy, as it is in secular society, then people will eventually reject each other as each person seeks to have their interests prevail. Thus, society becomes a mass of competing individuals without mutual bonds. Such a society does not become more free; it becomes less free as vice, corruption, brutality, and oppression inevitably increase.

Now, I believe we can try to answer our original question. One reason why we human beings are willing to fight and die for freedom is because the need for freedom is imprinted onto our very nature. By virtue of our ability to reason and our free will, we are impelled to seek truth, especially religious truth.

Our Creator instilled this drive within us, so that we would seek Him, for He is truth. And having found truth, we are obligated to live it to the best of our ability. But we cannot satisfy this obligation unless we are free from coercion. Consequently, it is the obligation of the state to ensure that its citizens are free to exercise their religious freedom. However, if the state fails in its obligation, or is attacked by another state, then, at some point, human beings will rightly and necessarily fight and die for true freedom.

This Memorial Day Catholics rightly honor our fallen brothers and sisters, those who have died so that we may continue to choose freedom. But we should also remember our Church, who has defended the dignity and freedom of the human person for over two-thousand years.

Michael Terheyden was born into a Catholic family, but that is not why he is a Catholic. He is a Catholic because he believes that truth is real, that it is beautiful and good, and that the fullness of truth is in the Catholic Church. However, he knows that God's grace operating throughout his life is the main reason he is a Catholic. He is greatly blessed to share his faith and his life with his beautiful wife, Dorothy. They have four grown children and three grandchildren.
